Eligibility: Special Groups

The following guidelines are used to determine Medi-Cal eligibility for individuals identified as members of special groups.

Institutional Inmate Status
An individual who becomes an inmate of a public institution is not eligible for Medi-Cal until the date of release from prison or jail on permanent release, bail, own recognizance (OR), probation or parole. An inmate of a public institution is a person who is:

- In a prison; a county, city or tribal jail; or a prison or jail prior to arraignment, conviction or sentencing
- Incarcerated, but can leave prison or jail on work release or work furlough and must return at specific intervals
- Released from prison or jail due to a medical emergency but would otherwise be incarcerated
- A minor in a juvenile detention center prior to disposition due to criminal activity
- A minor placed on juvenile intensive probation by a juvenile court with specific conditions of release, including residence in a juvenile detention center
- A minor placed on juvenile intensive probation by a juvenile court to a secure treatment facility contracted within the juvenile detention center that is part of the criminal justice system
- Between ages 21 – 65 in an Institution for Mental Diseases (IMD). (This rule includes individuals detained under Section 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and applies regardless of pregnancy, blindness, disability or any other circumstance that would normally qualify them for Medi-Cal.)

Note: Medi-Cal eligibility stops on the day institutional status begins and cannot be reinstated until the day institutional status ends.

Non-institutional Inmate Status: Medi-Cal Eligible
An individual is eligible for Medi-Cal and is not an inmate of a public institution if:

- After arrest but before booking, that individual is escorted by police to a hospital for medical treatment and held under guard
• Temporarily transferred from prison or jail to a halfway house or residential treatment facility prior to a formal probation release order
• Released from prison or jail on permanent release, bail, own recognizance (OR), probation or parole with a condition of home arrest, work release, community service, outpatient or inpatient treatment
• Released from prison or jail under a court probation order due to a medical emergency
• Temporarily staying in a juvenile detention center prior to disposition due to care, protection or the child’s best interest, if there is a plan for temporary stay (such as, awaiting foster care placement)
• Placed on juvenile intensive probation by a juvenile court with home arrest restrictions
• Placed on juvenile intensive probation by a juvenile court to a secure treatment facility that is not part of the criminal justice system
• Placed on juvenile intensive probation by a juvenile court with the condition of treatment in a psychiatric hospital, residential treatment center or on an outpatient basis
• Released or transferred from an IMD to a public or private medical facility
• Placed on conditional release or convalescent leave from an IMD
• Under age 22 and a patient in an IMD, who was institutionalized prior to his/her 21st birthday, and continues to receive inpatient psychiatric care

Non-institutional Inmate Status: CMSP Eligible
For County Medical Services Program (CMSP) eligibility, the preceding guidelines do not apply. Questions related to CMSP and institutional status should be directed to the local county welfare department.
