

OBRA and IRCA

«Restricted or full-scope Medi-Cal benefits are extended to previously ineligible non-citizens, effective on or after October 1, 1988.» This program was mandated by the Federal Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1986 (OBRA) and the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 (IRCA). «IRCA created a legalization program under which the status of certain non-citizens unlawfully residing in the United States may be adjusted over time to permanent resident status. In granting these non-citizens amnesty, the law specifies that their participation in certain assistance programs be restricted to five years. OBRA applies to other non-citizens such as undocumented non-citizens and temporary visitors.»

Emergency Medical Conditions Definition

“Emergency medical condition” is a medical condition manifesting itself by acute symptoms of sufficient severity, including severe pain, which in the absence of immediate medical attention could reasonably be expected to result in any of the following:

- Placing the patient’s health in serious jeopardy
- Serious impairment to bodily functions
- Serious dysfunction to any bodily organ or part

Eligible individuals are entitled to all inpatient and outpatient services that are necessary for the treatment of an emergency medical condition as certified by the attending physician or other appropriate provider and in the same manner as administered under Section 51056 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations. «Continuation of medically necessary inpatient hospital services and follow up care after the emergency has resolved shall not be authorized or reimbursed for non-citizens eligible for restricted benefits only.»

All acute level inpatient days (except an emergency admission for labor and delivery) continue to require authorization via a Treatment Authorization Request (TAR). Admissions for labor and delivery require authorization after the first two days (for a vaginal delivery) or the first three days (for a cesarean section delivery) of the patient’s stay. For additional information, refer to the contract services section in the appropriate Part 2 manual for more information.

Documentation Required for Emergency Services

When billing for emergency services, providers must indicate emergency treatment on the claim and submit a statement that describes the nature of the emergency, including relevant clinical information about the patient's condition and why the emergency services rendered were considered to be immediately necessary. It must be comprehensive enough to support a finding that an emergency existed. The statement must be signed by the provider. A mere statement that an emergency existed is not sufficient. Refer to the claim completion section of the appropriate Part 2 manual for specific claim form instructions.
